Extracurricular Programs

The following procedures shall be followed for all extracurricular programs:

- (1) The extracurricular program of a school shall be under the direction and general supervision of the principal.
- (2) The principal shall select the personnel to direct and to act as advisors for the various extracurricular activities.
- (3) The principal shall strive to select faculty advisors, directors, coaches and leaders for extracurricular activities that shall reflect the diversity of the community. Care shall be exercised to limit the load carried by any one teacher so as not to jeopardize the normal duties of the teacher. When teachers do not volunteer for extracurricular duty, the principal may assign such duties and responsibilities on a rotating basis. There shall be a fair and equitable distribution of such duties.
- (4) The principal shall promote participation in the full range of extracurricular activities by students of all racial and ethnic groups.
- (5) The principal shall ensure that all selection criteria is written and clearly communicated to all interested parties and is fair and unbiased; and that the selection committees are racially and ethnically diverse. The principal shall also address any barriers to full participation that disproportionately affect any racial or ethnic group.
